Residential College – Warm, Loving Community

In the Residential College (RC) system, students will be placed in a team with approximately 30 other students from different grades and majors and supervised by a team professor who provides mentorship. Students live in dormitory with team members, and experience fellowship by going to chapel and having team meetings together.

One Team

Live in Korea, Learn in English!

All Handong freshmen start with undeclared major, exploring academic interests in a broad curriculum before choosing their major in sophomore year. As majors can be chosen regardless of field of study, students can find their perfect fit!
